LiveRez.com Releases Host of New Features

The company rolls out a slew of new features to further empower its growing base of property manager partners

BOISE, Id. — LiveRez.com, the largest and fastest growing management solution for professional vacation rental managers, recently added a number of new features to its industry-leading end-to-end platform.

“These updates are part of our ongoing commitment to continually developing new technologies that empower our partners to grow and succeed,” said Tracy Lotz, founder and CEO of LiveRez.com.

Some of the highlights among the new features include:

- Updated reporting functions
- Vendor management
- Enhanced owner statement capabilities
- Advanced security features
- And an exclusive property marketing tool

In addition to the aforementioned features, LiveRez.com also rolled out a number of new options for current features. These updates give LiveRez.com partners even more customization choices for the many tasks that the system can handle automatically.

“We’re excited to offer our partners these new features, and we look forward to releasing even more exciting new features in the near future,” Lotz said. “Our growing team of programmers has been on a coding spree these past few months, and I don’t expect them to slow down any time soon.”
